ARLINGTON CAPITAL ADVISORS FACILITATES SALE OF DOC POPCORN TO DIPPIN' DOTS

Birmingham, AL – July 23, 2014 Arlington Capital Advisors, LLC, a boutique investment bank that specializes in advising closely-held consumer businesses, announced today that its principals facilitated a sale of Doc Popcorn to Dippin' Dots Franchising, LLC. Arlington's principals were the exclusive financial advisors to Doc Popcorn and its shareholders on the transaction. The close of Doc Popcorn marks the fifth consumer transaction to-date for Arlington in 2014.

Based in Boulder, CO, Doc Popcorn is the largest franchised popcorn retailer in the world, providing a high-quality, better-for-you snack. Currently, the Doc Popcorn system consists of approximately 100 franchise partners across 30 states, Japan, Mexico and Puerto Rico. With the help of Dippin' Dots, Doc Popcorn plans to execute a calculated growth strategy in both existing and new geographic markets. "With the industry experience, reach and resources of Dippin' Dots behind us, we can continue to execute our vision of creating smiles all over the world," said Rob Israel, co-founder of Doc

Popcorn. “We are very pleased to have worked with Arlington’s knowledgeable and professional team who guided us expertly every step of the way.”

“This acquisition represents a significant addition to our portfolio of leading snack food franchises,” said Scott Fischer, President at Dippin’ Dots. “Arlington was instrumental in keeping everyone focused on what mattered so we could consummate the deal in a timely and effective manner.”

“From the beginning of our relationship with Doc Popcorn, Arlington’s goal was to find a strategic partner that provided Doc Popcorn with the resources and expertise to continue its rapid ascension in the snack segment,” said John Goldasich, Director of Arlington Capital Advisors. “We’re confident that Dippin’ Dots is the right partner to further develop the Doc Popcorn brand, and we look forward to seeing the future successes of both brands.”
